Week of Prayer Opens With Service in First Baptist Church.

Vicious Dog Attacks a Letter Carrier -U. S. Court in Session-General and Personal.

Evening Star Bureau, No. 727 King Street, Bell Telephone No. 106. ALEXANDRIA, Va., January 3, 1899. The week of union prayer services commenced last night with a meeting in the First Baptist Church. Rev. J. Ernest Thacker delivered the sermon, the subject being "Prayerful Confession." The services this evening will be held in Trinity M. E. Church, Rev. J. T. United States Court in Session. The January term of the United States listrict court was opened in the court room of the post office building at noon today, Judge Edward Waddill presiding. Numerous grand and petit jurors, who had been ummoned from every section of the eastern district, and Gen. Edgar Allen, the recently appointed United States district attorney, are present.

It is said that no matters of much importance will be brought up at this session, but that there is much routine business to be transacted. The United States attorney will probably call the attention of the grand jury to certain violations of the revenue law.

Dog Attacks a Mail Carrier.

Mr. Carlton A. Padgett, a letter carrier, while collecting mail early this morning, was savagely attacked by a large dog on Queen street. The animal sprung upon Mr. Padgett suddenly, lacerating his right leg in several places. Mrs. Joseph Roberts, owner of the dog, dressed the injured limb, and later Dr. Purviss rendered medical assistance. A warrant has been issued against Mr. Rogers for ke-ping a vicious animal, and it is said the dog will be killed.

General Matters. Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Olivia Nevitt were held this morning at 10 o'clock in St. Mary's Catholic Church, and were largely attended. The pallbearers were Messrs. T. Burroughs, H. Kirk, jr., John Ahern, M. B. Harlow, Frank Warield and Mr. Allen. Interment took place in St. Mary's cemetery.

Miss Belle Stanton, whose death occurred Monday night, will be buried at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the M. E. Church South, Rev. J. T. Williams conducting the services.

The funeral of Mr. Andrew Carson will take place at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning from the old Braddock House.

There is no change in the smallpox situation. The only two genuine cases so far discovered are in Braddock's alley and are reported to be doing well. The house rented for a hospital outside the city will be used when Health Officer Miller deems it expedient. There were no cases for trial before Mayor Simpson in the police court this morning.

Meteorological Summary for December-Residence Damaged by Fire. The meteorological summary for the month of December from observations taken at Brace's drug store, corner of 30th and M streets, by Prof. M. F. Burrows, is as follows: The mean temperature for the month was 33.9 degrees. The maximum emperature was 72 degrees, occurring the 30th, while the minimum temperature of 8 degrees occurred the 14th. This gives a monthly range of 64 degrees. The least daily range of the thermometer was 7 degrees, occurring the 3d and 20th, while the greatest daily range was 39 degrees, occur-

The total rainfall, including melted snow and hail, was 3.76 inches, giving an average daily rainfall of 12-100 of an inch. There were ten days upon which 1-100 of an inch or more of rain fell. The total snowfall in inches was 1.5. There were eleven clear days, ten fair days and ten cloudy days in the month. A thunder storm occurred the 22d. Frost occurred nineteen days, while hall fell on four days. The prevailing direction of the wind was from the north-

An alarm of fire was turned in last evening a few minutes before 9 o'clock for a blaze in the residence of Mr. Henry Cop-perthite, at 1411 32d street. Two alarms were turned in almost simultaneously, one from box 73 and another from box 714. When the engines reached the scene the rear portion of the residence was ablaze, and for a time it looked as though the entire building was doomed. By prompt and quick work the firemen succeeded in sub-duing the flames and kept them from spreading much beyond the room where first discovered. The hallway and rear portion of the house from the second story up was damaged considerably.

The fire originated from some unknown cause in the linen room in the rear of the second floor of the residence. The room was completely gutted. The damage is placed at $500.

Highest class suits at half price.

The overstock of Julius Stern & Co.—the acknowledged leaders in the making of ladies' high-class, exclusive suits-were secured at a ridiculous price and are offered at a proportionate figure.

If you've the slightest need for a tailor-made suit or if you will have need for one any time before next summer, you must attend this sale. When we bought hundreds of suits from Freedman Bros. a few weeks ago and told you that they were the greatest values we ever offered-it was the truth. But we have eclipsed those values now-the suits are finer-and yet the prcies are less. And withal we allow you to have your purchase "charged" and let you pay as you can. We repeat the details printed yes-

Ladies' suits which sold up to $50, | Ladies' suits which sold up to $25,

$19.98 -suits which are far too handsome-far too elaborate to describe—to which cold type cannot do justice-which must be seen that you come into full realization of their elegance. In this lot are the very handsomest are full flaring and perfectly finished-and not one is worth less than $25. But they go at $10less than half price, and the bargain is the greatest we have ever offered—the greatest any store in this city has ever offered.

Thus the reduction sale affects the cloaks.

$10 kersey jackets, $5.98. Lot of ladies' black double-breasted kersey jackets, with satin lining-new round corners-exceedingly stylish, with silk-lined jackets-welt seams, &c.-which sold at $10, go for $5.98.

$15 kersey jackets, $8.50. The unrestricted choice of a lot of elegant jackets-the most stylish cloaks of the season, which have been selling at $15 and more-go for $8.50.

$18.98 velour jackets, $7.50 It seems impossible, but it is a fact! Every velour plush jacket which sold for as much as $18.98 goes for $7.50. They have high-colored satin linings and collars edged with marten fur.

$60 velour jackets, $30. The most exquisitely handsome velour plush jackets—trimmed with ent jet—lined with the heaviest quality satin in highest colors—edged with genuine Persian lamb and marten—which sold for $60—go at just half price—$50.

$9 seal plush capes, $5. Saltz's silk s-al plush capes, choice of plain or beaded and braided—which sold for as high as $9-go for $5-all-satin lined and full sweep.

$25 seal fur capes, $14.50. Handsome electric seal capes—lined with satiu and edged with Thibet fur—elegant garments—the most perfect imitation of real Alaska seal—reduced from $25 to $14.50. Seal muffs, $1.49.

Another Example for Us. To the Editor of The Evening Star:

In England an underground telegraph cable has been laid from London to Bir-The remains of William G. Hoffman, who mingham, a distance of 105 miles. The cable consists of seventy-six insulated copper wires incased in lead, and that in a three-inch iron pipe. Every five miles this opens into a testing box, where there is also a device for forcing heated air through the pipe to remove any moisture that may accumulate. There will never be any "down wires" on that line, no matter how severe the storms, and consequently no interruptions from that

While our slow-going friends across the water are thus advancing we, who claim to be the smartest and most enterprising peo ple on earth, go on permitting our streets to be obstructed, our cities to be disfigured and our buildings endangered by the crossing of the telegraph and electric wires, to say nothing of the frequent deaths by accielectric shocks, the hindrance of the firemen by the tangle of overhead v and the periodical stoppage of communication by storms.

While, of course, this plan cannot be ap plied throughout our vast extent of coun try, there is no reason why it chould not be in the cities and larger towns, and that, too, to the ultimate advantage of the companies as well as the public. It is a na-tional disgrace to have the capital city filled as it is with the enormous poles along G and other streets, loaded as they are G and other streets, loaded as they are with from 75 to 100 wires, and they suspended over and frequently crossing the electric light wires. It is no wonder that "mysterious" fires are so on the increese. All the wires can and should be put under ground, and Congress should compel it. While, of course, it would increase the cost in the first instance, it would in the end in the first instance, it would in the end prove more profitable to the companies just as it has to the street railroads and others.
Surely the Western Union has made enough out of the public to justify the people in insisting on their burying its wires in the cities at least. FOOLED THE ITALIAN.

Woman's Dance in Opposition to a Monkey Show.

Pat Madigan and Mike Flynn, officers men held a delightful reception to their detailed for duty at the Police Court, are perhaps the best known members of the street, from 1 to 9 p.m. yesterday. The hall force in the city, so far as the court "regulars" are concerned. The former has charge of the cells and the latter, in addition to is a direction to transmit the entire customs strumental music was rendered at inter- being general utility man about the building, looks after the comfort of the prisoners. Unlike many prison guards, it is claimed, these officers have due consideration for the unfortunates, and the latter fully appreciate their many acts of kindness. There is scarcely one of the large number of regular callers who does not rehearse his troubles and occasionally other matters to one or the other of these officers. A few days ago an elderly woman, victim of strong drink, related to the keeper of the cells a story of how she fooled an Italian organ grinder.
"Say, Pat," she sald in her usual familiar say, Pat, she said in her usual familiar way of addressing the officer, "you ought to have seen how I fooled one of them Italians. Did you hear about it?"

"Indeed I didn't," said the officer, "How did you do it?"

"Well," she said, "I was coming down the street, when I saw the man with an organ. There was a crowd of children about, and the monkey was showing them a good time.

"Say, Pat," she continued. "I had taken a little, you know, and I thought it was just a good time to have some fun. I picked up my apron and danced about there, and if you believe me, the children stopped looking at the monkey and enjoyed the dance. They all put their money in my apron, and when I got on the outside of the crowd I put 75 cents in my pocket and walked away. And, say, Pat, what do you think the Italian did?"

"Give it up," said the officer.
"Well, I didn't give it up," said the woman, who thought she had played a good joke, "and," she added, "the man with the monkey shook his fist and said bad things till I got around the corner." Kate's money, collected to the loss of the man with the organ and monkey, got her in trouble, for she spent it for strong drink and then got locked up.

CUBANS AT SANTIAGO EXCITED. Object to Order Regarding Customs-Troops Still in Arms.

A dispatch from Santiago de Cuba yesterday says: An order has been received from Havara which, if enforced, will mean, in the judgment of the commercial classes here, serious injury to the province. This receipts each week to Havana. Compliance with such instructions would involve the abandonment of many necessary public improvements, especially in the matter of roads and water works.

Since the American occupation began these funds have been used for such purposes and have been the principal means of meeting the necessary expenditures. The of meeting the necessary expenditures. The Heraldo says that to carry out this order would rob 10,000 Cubans of employment, most of whom would probably take to the hills and become bandits, having no other recourse. Robert T. Mason, British consul at Santiago, says it was Spain's practice of monetary centralization which caused most of her troubles in Cuba monetary centralization which caused most of her troubles in Cuba.

General Leonard Wood, United States military governor of the department, on being asked to express an opinion respecting the order declined to be interviewed, but it is reported that, without offering any criticism of the policy which dictates the order, he has shown his annoyance at the possibility of a stop being put to the good order, he has shown his annoyance at the possibility of a stop being put to the good work being done in the province. The local taxation fund is barely sufficient to meet the expenses of the city. There is nothing over for important improvements, and the customs receipts are considered by competent judges to be absolutely necessary for the successful management of the Popular excitement over the order is growing among all classes. The chamber of commerce, the Sons of Veterans, the supreme court, and the San Carlos Club have called meetings to take action, and each organization will cable to Washington an earnest protest against what is des-cribed as the "sulcidal policy of centraliz-ing money at Hayara"

ing money at Havana."

A Havana dispatch says: The continuance of the Cubans in arms is the most puzzling question connected with the administration of the island. The negotiations for the order of the region of the stand. tions for the payment of the soldiers are to be conducted from Washington, so as to relieve Major General Brooke of this diffireneve Major General Brooke of this diffi-culty. For the present the Cuban com-manders are holding their men closely to-gether and under discipline. General Davis, military governor of the department of Pinar del Rio, has gone into the matter fully with General Mario Menocal and other Cuban commanders. They say that they expect the United States to pay them, and that they will not disband until they get an answer. The majority of military get an answer. The majority of military observers here seem to think that probably he easiest way out is to make the payment, taking a mortgage on the revenues of Cuba in the form of bonds.

The oddest domicile on earth is that recently erected at Yokohama by an eminent German bacteriologist. It is a microbe-proof house, built of glass blocks. There are no window sashes, and the doors, when closed, are air-tight. The air supply is forced into the room through a pipe and filtered through cotton wool to cleanse it of bacteria. To insure further sterilization the air is driven against a glycerine-coated plate glass, which captures all the microbes the wool spares. The few microbes brought into the house in the clothes of visitors soon die in the warm sunlight with which the house is flooded.
